Delegates Assembly

Carrie Barnett, Kristi Oliver, Abi Paytoe Gbayee, Josh Drews!

NAEA is a "for members, by members" association. At Delegates Assembly, representatives from state/province associations and Interest Groups weigh in on and provide recommendations to the NAEA Board on policy matters, legislative actions, and other important issues that impact NAEA members. Reports are given by committees and the NAEA Executive Director. The work is directed by the four Regional VPs. This is an open assembly; nonvoting attendees are welcome to observe the full day of proceedings.

(TICKET REQUIRED) NAEA26 Museum Precon: Galactic Conversations in Art Museums

Combining the wide-ranging collections in our museums with a spectrum of innovative approaches to gallery teaching and programming creates the potential for bold conversations and galactic audience engagement. How can museums be sites for hopeful, experiential, and respectful learning with relevant cultures in museums? How do we make space for each other to have meaningful conversations to expand our understanding of past and present lived experiences? This Preconvention seeks to amplify interdisciplinary approaches to engagement in art museums. Our featured keynote presentation will be led by Vanessa Sanchez and Lala Bolander from Yollcalli Arts Reach, the award-winning initiative of the National Museum of Mexican Art, which offers free arts and culture programming to teens and young adults. Additionally, you'll participate in breakout sessions that demonstrate innovative approaches to connecting audiences with museum collections from gallery games, to improv, to poetry writing—and exchange ideas about how to adapt these strategies to your own gallery teaching or program development. You will be empowered to launch new approaches that make cosmic connections with your audiences in creative and dynamic ways.

Included in the registration fee is transportation to and from the Art Institute of Chicago, as well as morning coffee/tea service, lunch, and a closing reception (cash bar). Additional details—including pickup and return times—will be provided in a Know Before You Go communication to help you plan your day.

(TICKET REQUIRED) Art Build Workers: Art Advocacy & Building Together

Jennifer Bergmark, William Estrada, Tim Abel, Neal Flynn, Kim Cosier, and Josie Osbourne

Join the Community Art Caucus for a pre-NAEA26 community collaborative event, "Art-Build" with Kim Cosier and Josie Osbourne from the Art Build Workers. We will explore collaborative artmaking as a tool for advocacy, healing, and transformation through the creation of parachutes, banners, buttons, and more. In addition to working alongside one another, participants will gain experience and resources to amplify community and organizational messaging through the arts and feel empowered to facilitate arts advocacy work with their students and communities.

This drop-in event welcomes attendees to come and go throughout the session. A late lunch is included with the listed ticket price. A Know Before You Go communication will be shared closer to the Convention with additional scheduling details to help guide your attendance planning.

Please note: Transportation is not provided for this community collaborative event. Registrants are responsible for coordinating their own transportation to and from the event.

An Exhibition: Voices in Early Childhood Art Education

Gigi Yu, Hayon Park

The Early Childhood Art Educators Interest Group, along with collaborating organizations, is hosting an exhibition of young children (birth–3rd grade) and their educators/caregivers' artworks at the upcoming NAEA Convention in Chicago.

This exhibition, Voices in Early Childhood Art Education, aims to amplify the essential role of the arts in early learning. Rooted in the mission and vision of Early Childhood Art Educators, this exhibition celebrates the ways art empowers children to explore, imagine, and construct knowledge of their worlds. The Voices exhibition centers on the belief that every child has an innate capacity for curiosity, creativity, and communication, and that the arts are not an enrichment but a foundation for holistic learning. An exhibition reception will be held on March 7, 2026, from 12:00 to 2:00 pm.

Please note: Transportation is not provided for this community collaborative event. NAEA26 attendees are responsible for coordinating their own transportation to and from the event.
